PREFACE

On a very special day in June some 240 boys and girls will march solemnly around Manchester Field. Graduation still seems only a dream, not a reality, so fast have our four years at Winchester High School flown by. Each one of us has special memories of his own, perhaps a football game, a dance, or an A in Chemistry. Yet all of us have shared the same worries, which, when viewed in retrospect, miraculously seem to have worked out somehow. No doubt we'll be facing more serious and difficult situations in the business world or at college, but the help we've received at WHS should stand us in good stead. Recorded in this, our Aberjona, are those events, joyful, sad, worrisome, and exciting which made up our high school career.

DEDICATION

In dedicating this yearbook of the Class of 1962 to you, Mrs. Travis, we seek to express our gratitude for your great devotion to the teaching profession and for the personal interest you have always taken in the success of each of your students.

We thank you for your infinite patience, for the countless hours you have taken from your own time to help many a struggling student. We admire you for your kindness, your fairness, and your desire to help each one do as much as he is capable of doing. Your personal concern for each one of your students and your deep interest in the subject you teach have served as inspiration and encouragement to all of us whom you have taught.

IN MEMORIAM

On October 27, 1961 Winchester High School lost a great teacher and a real friend.

We are all aware that we cannot express adequately in words our sense of loss at the passing of one who has served us and the community of Winchester so faithfully and well as Mr. Cooper.

No man exemplified better the qualities of integrity, compassion, sincerity and dedication to teaching as a profession. He served as head of the history department of the high school for the last seven years. Only last year he received the signal honor of being elected head of the New England Association of Social Studies Teachers, which includes both college and high school teachers of history and social studies.

A product of Yale University with his Master's degree from the same institution, he always approached the teaching of history as a scholar who ever insisted that an exact understanding of history would insure intelligent judgment of problems of today. As a town meeting member for three terms, he practiced democratic responsibility, and he never shrank from stating his opinion in the public forum. This opinion was always based on careful study and clear conviction.

The school administration never had a more loyal and helpful co-worker. His wise counsel was sought by all teachers and students.

Teaching has lost a great teacher, and we have lost a real friend. May the inspiration of his life strengthen us that we may carry on his work with the same integrity and dedication.

Class History

For the benefit of posterity, the following is a brief summary of the outstanding and memorable events that took place in our four illustrious years of high school.

In September of 1958, we, the immature Freshmen (as the other three classes called us), became part of a long-awaited WHS, no matter how hard the upperclassmen tried to dismiss us from their minds. We skillfully showed our prowess by electing "Sach", "Moose", Joe, and Maida to serve as our officers (with Mr. Branley's help) and Al, "Moose", Jane, and Martha as representatives on Student Council and then further stood out by having an undefeated frosh football team. Our own frosh cheerleaders were even asked to cheer with the Varsity at that great night rally (wet hair and all). And will we ever forget the day the water main broke, and a much appreciated four-day week-end came our way.

After our introduction to the cruelties of mid-years, we greeted spring with a sigh of relief and took part in our first WHS Vaudeville, starring the "Animal Fantasia". In May we began the long hard road toward financial security with our fabulous Mid-May Hop. We'll always remember the wonderful times we had as Freshmen including the party we had for Miss Bailey when she left us in the spring of '58.

During the summer the boys enjoyed their "moonlight dips" in Wedge Pond, after which our class was reunited again in September to begin an eventful Sophomore year, led by Al, Stevie, Sue, and Joanne with advice willingly given by Mr. Weafer. We shall always remember Pat, Maida, and Les on the Varsity cheering squad . . . Pam making all-star cast at One-Act Play Night . . . watching Beggs and Cobb burn during third period . . . going to Tech Tourney . . . Sully's cheerful service at Fred's pad . . . the "Four Seasons" of our second Vaudeville in which our class was well represented with seven acts . . . and of course we couldn't forget to mention Caesar's many campaigns with Mr. Skerry and his philosophy.

When we returned to school once again in September we took pride in our new social status—we were Juniors! The corridors seemed hollow that year because the Freshmen weren't with us—C'est dommage. Joe, Jane, Marilyn and Maida led the way while Mr. Waite solved our problems. How can we ever forget Vera . . . learning to drive with Mr. Branley and Miss Daniels . . . our undefeated JV football team . . . winning at "One-Act Play Night" . . . the melodious tones from the girls who made up the Octette . . . the pumpkins on Gordy's porch, and the "black olive" war in the cafeteria protesting the quality of "champagne and caviare". In January our "Stairway to the Stars" prom was a big success, with class rings to boot. The "Nite Owls" came into the picture around the same time that Dianne landoli had that fabulous party. When spring rolled around we enjoyed splash parties at Norm's and the Hess's . . . the National Honor Society was voted upon, and Ed Crotty won the Harvard Book Prize. Jane and Joanne threw a real great slumber party, and we finally left school in June with a new classmate—Harvey Simian, and a fine background in French received by a great teacher and friend—Mme. Genicot.

We came back for the last time in September of 1961 and found the load a little heavier, being the unquestioned leaders of the school. The first major change was the migration of the girls to the other side of the cafeteria. But still there was much work ahead of us. Al, "Sach", Patti, and "Moose" took these burdens on their shoulders (and placed them on Mr. Morse's?). We took pride in having Stevie elected President of Student Council, and Pat and Bill being recognized as National Merit Scholars. Mike demonstrated his capabilities as captain of the football team while Maida led the cheerleaders and Linda kept things lively in front of the stands. Judy and Ginny worked hard to form a "pep squad" (balloon and all).

We can look back and still see the arrival of Gisela, Mr. Knight, our new Student Council advisor, and Mr. Kessler, our new football and baseball coach. Memorable events consisted of the girls' football team ably coached by Alfred E. Neumann and the Menucci's . . . going home for insurance envelopes (Didn't think you'd make it, Skeets?!). . . Othello at Tufts Arena Theater . . . our Penthouse parties putting the spotlight on "Hey Li Lee Lo" and the "Twist" . . . the frantic rush to fill out our college applications and the lucky few who were accepted on early decision . . . Ray Charles at Linda White's house . . . sweeping the awards at One-Act Play Night . . . the Victory Dance with Mike and Tommy winning the trophies . . . our speeches by such prominent men as Ted Kennedy and Governor Volpe . . . hot discussions in Mr. Fitts's English class . . . our last tortuous mid-years and finals . . . and the many other sports captained by Jack and Dean, Frank, Jane and Carole, Paul, Tricia, Tommy, Joe, "Sach", Mikey and Bob.

The remaining part of our Senior year was spent in hopeful anticipation of college acceptances and preparations for our last fling, the Senior Prom, and our last long walk across Manchester Field.

As we now look back on four years at Winchester High School, we can better appreciate the fine quality of the faculty and the abundance of the facilities that were so generously offered us for our academic improvement. We can only hope that classes following us will take full advantage of the outstanding opportunities provided by a high school second-to-none in our sincere estimation. We can easily relate the many wonderful times we've had at WHS, but find it difficult to express our deepest gratitude and farewells to those who made them possible.

Best of Luck!

Class Will

We, the class of 1962, do bequeath our last will and testament to Winchester High School as a small recompense for the complete desolation, but perhaps the better relaxation, that it will experience immediately following our departure.

1. We, Carol Coakley, Sandra Simpson, Maryann Brown, Thea Kirk, Ellen Du Toit and Carol Arlanson, leave Harvard to the Squares.

2. To John Colliander, do I, Pat Sexton, leave my prowess as a quarterback.

3. We, Jim Anderson, Jim Edmands, Walter Scott and Bill Eddy, leave much to the despair of the Junior girls.

4. To Mr. Finigan, do we, Larry Harrington, George Laban, and Phil Gallagher, leave a clay pigeon.

5. I, Linda Vallee, will my place on the High Honor Roll to Stephanie Null.

6. We, John and Barbara Lane, leave the town dead.

7. I, Alan Macdonald, leave on the Mayflower.

8. We, Frank Johnson, Jack Scherban, and Dick Guiliani, leave crossing the country.

9. I, Bob Flaherty, leave for my out-of-town interests.

10. We, the Hess, Lauretano, McNally and Wilhelm twins, leave on the double.

11. We, Fish, Hog, and Moose, will the WHS zoo to Duck Devaney.

12. I, Tom Nahigian, leave on my Magic Carpet.

14. We, Paul Ryan and Marcia Gallagher, leave tiptoeing out the door.

15. We, Richie Casalnuovo and Bob Benincasa, leave sport writers still spelling our names wrong.

15. I, Joe Shea, leave putting shoes on the wrong feet.

16. To Diane Burnham and Margo Harmon, do we, Peggy Knowles and Dianne Watson, leave our Lord and Taylor look.

17. We, Janice Keyes and Joe Dattilo, take our dimples with us.

18. I, Martha Dodge, bequeath the stables to Linda White.

19. We, Jane Stevens, Sue Ryder, Lucy Cushman, and Phil Wilson, will our flaming locks to Sherry Changaris and Unity Paquette.

20. I, Mike Bellino, leave my legs to the girls' field hockey team.

21. We, Jimmy VonRosenvinge and Richie Burns, leave the Night Owls hooting.

22. I, George Nowell, the Friendly Lion, leave my grin to Yogi Bear.

23. I, Tricia Buros, will my constant crushes to Judy Morison.

24. We, the "senior moonlight swim team", leave the Hess pool empty.

25. I, Skinny Lynch, bequeath my "unique physique" to Charlie Atlas.

26. We, Don Migliaccio, Karl Russo, and Dave Moncy, leave Mr. Book still shook.

27. We, Gayle Palace, Peter Sullivan, Nancy Carter and Steve Dee, leave Twisting.

28. I, Jackie Cartier, leave with a ring on each finger.

29. We, Ralph Wilhelm and Brian Heard, leave WHSR to Dean Ericson, Steve Memishian and Harvey.

30. I, Norm Stafford, leave WHS still "alarmed".
31. We, Mary Lou O'Donnell and Dean Anderson, leave devoted.
32. To Goldilocks do we, Martha Preston, Sue Blanchard, and Lee Crocker, will our blond tresses.
33. I, Jim Reid, leave Richie Cooper alone with the Kingston Trio.
34. I, Eileen Cullen, leave a stepladder to Jan Thomas.
35. We, Ronnie Emory and Paul Hodecker, arrived in time to leave.
36. To Betty Bixler do I, Carole Lawson, bequeath my athletic alertness.
37. We, Tom Bates and Kathy Lopez, leave our palettes and paints to Jeff Fessenden and Sandy Stockwell.
38. I, "Sticky Fingers" Crotty, leave for Reno with half the A.A. payroll.
39. I, Bob Carroll, leave my hand raised.
40. We, Debby Nichols, Laurel Ingraham and Leslie Sanger, leave for the Met.
41. I, Bob Donlon, leave with a pizza in one hand and a sub in the other.
42. I, Marilyn Long, leave my infectious giggle to Jeanne Grant.
43. We, the Senior boys, leave Magoon Square to Officer Jim and the Junior Boys.
44. I, Jeff Smith, leave the bike rack empty.
45. To Len Timpone do I, Richie Bond, will my cagey court action.
46. I, Mike Lonigro, leave tumbling past Mr. Battino.
47. We, the traffic squad, leave on the warning buzzer.
48. I, Diane Mericantante, will my "hot" Ford convertible to Kathy Moynihan.
49. To Mr. Kean do we, Judy Towle and Patti Tofuri, leave one badly worn locker.
50. To Andrea Mattison, do I, Joanne McClennan, bequeath my sophisticated ways.
51. We, Patty Pacino and Maureen Murray, leave Miss Nelson exhausted and confused.
52. I, Genevieve Berube, leave El Torro to the matadors.
53. We, Carol Chabot, Katy McLeod, and Jeanne Prue, leave Woolworth's in an uproar.
54. We, Ned Niblock and Bob Kiley, finally leave the library without Miss Livingstone's request.
55. I, Tom Mooney, leave with a trophy under each arm.
56. We, Charlotte DeMarco and Angela Antonuccio, will our togetherness to Ann Rogers and Marilyn DeAngelis.
57. To Doug Cann and Walter Josephson do we, Ernie Covino and Ron Nastasi, leave Channel eleven.
58. I, John Stanford, leave my charming ways to Peter Carleton.
59. We, Lynne Irish and Kathy Thomas, left.
60. We, Mary McElhiney, Claire Carucci and Jean Binding, finally leave the first floor sanitary.
61. To Diane landoli do I, Elena Magno, leave my "confusing situations".
62. We, Reuben Innis and Mal Bennett, leave the football team in the able hands of Dave Eaton and John Giger.
63. I, Judy Yore, leave, as usual, at the end of the alphabet.
64. We, the class of 1962, leave with deep appreciation for the assistance and guidance rendered to us by the Faculty.

Class Prophecy

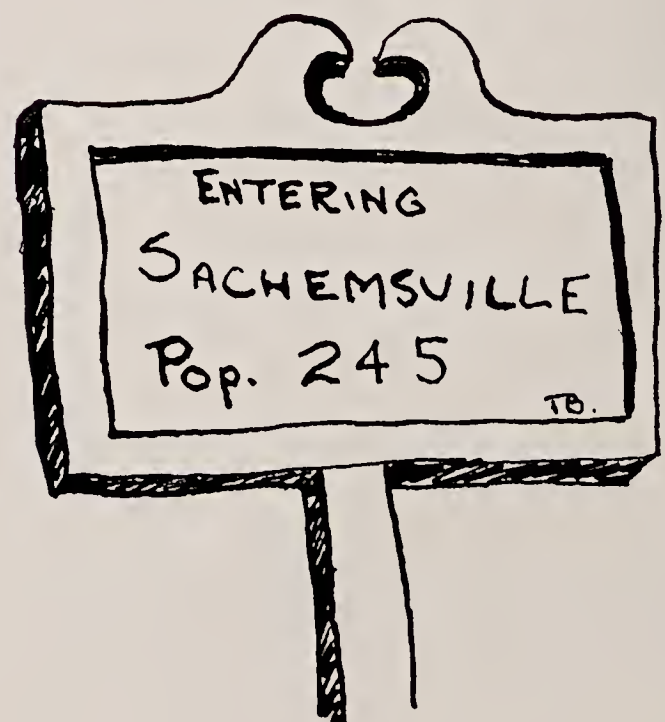

It's 1987 and members of the class of 1962 are blasting off for the moon to join their class mates for their 25th reunion. At the controls of the X-62 rocketship, designed by Frank Curtis, Nick Shorey, Mike Lonigro, and Tom Bates, are Norman Stafford and Dave Brock. Celebrities on the passenger list are Hollywood stars Sandra Simpson, Sue Bennett, and Jim "Satchmo" Reid. Also among the group are Robert Carroll and Paul Johnian, just back from a planet-wide concert tour with the Earth Philharmonic Orchestra, and Nobel Prize winners Terry Cronburg, Alice Dyson, and Bill Masalunas. In the back of the rocket we find a friendly game of cards among a few of our big business men, Richie "Bee-zee" Bond, and Ron "Skinny" Lynch co-owners of the Jupiter Bottling Company, George "Alfred" Neumann and Ned Niblock, Vice Presidents of Venus Lingerie Company, and Bob Kiley and George Goethals, Executives of the Interplanetary Yo-Yo Corporation.

We are now approaching the moon, and the moon control tower, operated by Brian Heard, is guiding the rocket to a safe landing. As the doors open, we are greeted by the lunar band, directed by Jim Von-Rosenvinge. Whooping it up with the old Winchester High School song are musicians John Parsons, Dick Norberg, Jim Cann, and Larry Wholley. Arriving in his jet limousine is Governor Alan "Albie" Macdonald with cabinet members Admiral "Schmedley" Dee, Secretary of the Navy; Patti Tofuri, Secretary of Craters; Dan "Moose" Mahony, Keeper of the Cabbage; Jane Hess, Secretary of Swimming Pools; and Maida Uhlig, Secretary of Social Events. Members of the press covering the arrival are cub reporters Lucy Cushman and Pat Hammel of the Sachem Star, interviewing our noted classmates. As we depart for the open house, held in honor of the reunion, we can see a lot of activity on a near-by crater. It seems there was a heavy snowfall on the moon last night, and members of the Brittle Bone Ski Club, Joanne Hess, Debby Nichols, Sona Kazanjian, Ralph Casagrande, Harvey Wheeler, Roger Newton, and Dick Tansey, are patrolling the slopes for frost-bitten St. Bernards.

We are now entering the bustling town of Sachemsville. There seems to be some traffic on the main street, but traffic officers Ed Crotty and Jack Scherban have the situation in hand. There has been a two-car collision involving Carol Coakley and Carol Arlanson, who were paying more attention to male pedestrians than the road. As we continue on through the town we catch a glimpse of Sully, still jerking sodas behind the counter of Sullivan's Apothecary. Standing outside surveying the town's activities are "Bronco" Lane, "Fish" Reardon, Roger McNeil, and Tom Nahigian. From the center of town we can see the Leighton mansion on top of crater Olympus, where the open house is being held.

We are now at the open house, and there is a Limbo contest going on in the middle of the floor among Nat Palmer, Judy Towle, and Linda Carter, and holding the Limbo poles are Kris Wilhelm and Judy Carr. In the corner our noted psychiatrist Ellen Du Toit is psychoanalyzing Thea Kirk, who is suspected of having a split personality. As part of the entertainment program, our famed vocalist, Linnie Butts, is singing her famous song, "My Heart Belongs to Daddy". In another group we come upon noted writers Pam Smith and Linda Vallee, talking to their publisher, Don Orton. Standing beside them are fashion models Dianne Watson and Nancy Mullen, wearing clothes designed by Paris designers Martha Dodge and Kathy Lopez.

The party is beginning to liven up now with a twisting contest to the music of Richie "Checker" Burns among Gayle Palace, Martha Preston, Billy "Sandhog" Sandburg, and Steve Preston. A news bulletin has just been brought in reporting that the score of the squirmish between the boys and girls football teams has been changed to 10-to-7 by "Bullet" Buros's record-breaking field goal. Nancy Carter, by receiving a pass from Pat Sexton, and aided by the blocking of Nancy O'Neil, Jackie Cartier, Karen O'Donnell, and Leslie Sanger, ran fifty yards for the girls' first touchdown. The only touchdown made by the boys was scored by Bob Benincasa and the extra point was made by their captain, Mike Bellino. Of course, the boys are wearing blindfolds!

Gisela vonKlocke is standing around discussing the Berlin situation with Anne Marie Monahan, Karen Dale, and Sue Defoe. Standing in back of them discussing Dr. Spock's new book, Spare the Parents, Spoil the Child, are Patty Pacino, Carol Chabot, Maureen Murray, Katie McLeod, and Mary McElhiney.

Catering the open house is Blanchard's Catered Crumpets Inc. owned and operated by Sue Blanchard, Angela Antonuccio, and Charlotte DeMarco. Serving tea are Bobby "Taters" Donlon, Bobby "Flappers" Flaherty, Richie Casalnuovo, Neil Nelson, and Don and Jerry Migliaccio. Weaving in and around them are Larry Harrington, Paul Ryan, and Dave Brock with Ginny Scaturro, Pat MacDonald, and Linda Amico, doing the Bunny Hop. Also, doing their interpretation of the Cha-Cha to a whooped up version of "Smoke Gets In Your Eyes", are Beverly Marasca and Peggy Larson.

The activities at the party have been transmitted over station WHSR-FM, operated by Mary Lou O'Donnell and Ralph Wilhelm.

The open house was a great success, and once again the Leighton's house was left in shambles.

CLASSES

"Do you think that I should take College English or just regular English?"

"I don't know whether to take that review math course or not . . ."

"Yes, I plan to take psychology the second semester."

"Hmmm . . . let's see, two labs a week for chemistry, so I'll be going to lunch at . . ."

Does this bring back memories of the confusing time most of us had in September trying to organize our schedule for the school year? And no wonder, with so many different courses of study offered! Diversity is the word. For instance, perhaps you took Creative Writing besides regular English during the past school year. Or maybe you were interested in gaining more confidence in your speaking ability, so you signed up for Fundamentals of Speech. Ten different courses were offered in the English Department during 1961-62.

Do you like to work with your hands? Then perhaps you took one of the two Woodworking or Metal Shop classes offered. Do you know what melted solder smells like? If so, then you probably took one of the three Electronics courses. Difficulty ranged from simple circuits to transistor theory.

If $A^2 + B^2 = C^2$, then what do you have? Mathematics. Eight Mathematics courses were offered, varying in difficulty from Business Mathematics I to Advance Placement Mathematics C. With a background in mathematics, you were probably able to take one of the Science courses. Three areas of study, Biology, Chemistry and Physics, formed the foundation for a thorough knowledge of science. More advanced training was also offered this year in PSSC Physics and Advanced Placement Biology.

These are just a few of the areas of study offered to Winchester High School students during the past year. Totaled up, students could make their choices from more than eighty courses offered. Each year new subjects are added in order to improve upon an already excellent curriculum. The addition of Creative Writing, Advanced Placement English, and Global Geography is just a sampling of the seven new areas of study offered during the 1961-62 school year. And new and interesting fields of study are being discussed for the future.

"Fire burn and cauldron bubble . . ."

"36 - 22 - 36, eh?"

"Wow, look at him twist!"

During our school career we may sometimes lose sight of the aim of our efforts. The ultimate goal of all educational programs is to help students to develop themselves to their fullest possible potential and to teach them how to best deal with life around them. Surely our time spent at Winchester High School has helped us to attain, at least in part, these goals.

ACTIVITIES

ABERJONA

With sighs of relief and a great deal of pride, the Aberjona staff, ably and tirelessly directed by Dr. Ulin, has produced an outstanding Aberjona. The work was hard, but the reward was great for an editorial board composed of Martha Dodge, Alice Dyson, Linda Vallee, and Dianne Watson. Had it not been for the many co-operative Seniors who contributed their time, these girls would have never been able to do the fine job that they did.

This bigger, better Aberjona, is not only the product of the editorial board, but the many different departments. Advertising, capably managed by Pat Sexton and Dan Mahony, persuaded the local businessmen to renew their old ads, or to begin new ones. After the advertising staff had assured the size of the yearbook, the art staff, led by Tom Bates, began to illustrate it, with the evident results. Immediately the editorial staff and the typing staff stepped in to complete the biographies and write-ups, giving the Aberjona the finishing touch. The final job, the selling of the yearbooks was well-done by the subscription staff, headed by Carol Chabot. The sale of the 1962 Aberjona, as the result of their hard work, reached an all-time high.

And so, the entire staff with pride and pleasure presents to you, the students, the 1962 Aberjona, hoping that it is one of the most memorable in the history of Winchester High School.

Red and Black

Under the capable leadership of the co-editors-in-chief, Pom Smith and Bill Eddy, the Red and Black had its twenty-fourth successful year of publication. The senior staff published the issues of October, November and December. As is the custom at Winchester High School, at the beginning of the new year the paper was turned over to the Junior staff, who produced the remaining issues.

Subscriptions for the eight issues were offered to the student body for the first time. Those taking advantage of this offer found several innovations. The paper was enlarged by the addition of the Scholastic Roto, a notional publication. More photographs and cartoons, a more expansive coverage in the sports, society, and "Senior sketch" columns, and excellent editorials were other improvements.

Much credit and many thanks should be given to our new faculty advisors, Miss Buckman and Mrs. Miller, whose assistance proved invaluable to the Senior and Junior staffs of the paper.

National Honor Society

The National Honor Society has been a part of Winchester High School since 1947. Those students who rank in the upper third of their class are judged by both students and faculty for their leadership and scholastic ability, as well as their integrity. Five per cent of the Junior Class and fifteen per cent of the Senior Class are chosen.

The offices of the 1961-62 National Honor Society are in the able hands of Richard Giuliani, President; Linda Vallee, Vice President; and Alice Dyson, Secretary-Treasurer. The members serve two functions in the course of the year. First, they must organize the assembly at which the new members are announced; and secondly, they must plan the ceremony of induction.

Lights! Camera! Action! The National Thespian Society is a nationwide honorary dramatics group. Winchester High School became a member twelve years ago. Of the thousand troupes established, Winchester holds No. 729, under the capable sponsorship of Mr. Thomas A. Morse.

The National Thespian Society was formed to further active participation in the various fields of dramatic arts. Any student who successfully completes one hundred hours of service is eligible for this honor. Upon achieving this distinction, members can then gain further recognition by earning a star for each additional one hundred hours, or ten credits. Every spring, at the annual induction to this society, each member becomes acquainted with the motto, "Act well your part; there all the honor lies!"

Band

The band started off this year with some excellent performances at the football games under the able direction of Mr. Murray. This is Mr. Murray's first year as high school band conductor and he has said that he is really enjoying himself. The high school band is looking forward to what they expect will be a very successful year, as Mr. Murray has done an excellent job with the elementary and junior high bands since coming to Winchester.

Now finished with the job of hurriedly getting halftime shows together, the band will settle down indoors to work on concert music. The band has some very fine talent this year; three of its members, John Parsons, Lance Grenzeback, and Elaine Spear were selected to play in the All-District Band. This year the band hopes to play more concerts than before and as usual will participate in the spring concert and the Northeastern Music Festival. Also on the list of performances for this year are the Enka Parade, Memorial Day Parade, and, finally, graduation.

Orchestra

Once again, the orchestra, ably directed by Mr. Wendell S. Withington, has completed a very rewarding year. The first performance of the group was at Christmas at Winchester High. In February, the orchestra joined with Lexington for the sixth combined yearly concert. The two groups played together for several numbers, after which each orchestra played individually.

During the second half of the year, the group participated in the annual Spring Concert. Following this event, a great deal of additional preparation was involved before the orchestra joined in the Northeastern Music Festival. The Festival concluded another year in the history of the Orchestra, and one that was most enjoyable for all members of the group.

Red Cross

Under the competent leadership of Joe Dattilo and the guiding hand of Miss Helen Bronson, the Junior Red Cross, now called the High School Red Cross, has completed a very successful year. Beginning with the membership drive, this year's Red Cross achieved the enrollment of 100 per cent of the student body, a goal which had not been attained since 1955 and which boosted the treasury by $122. The Christmas card drive in December netted 2440 cards for the Bedford Hospital veterans, more than doubling last year's total. During the year, the organization also held a successful magazine drive, made a contribution to the Children's Fund, and provided volunteers to assist in projects at Red Cross Headquarters.

In addition to President Dattilo, the executives were: John Colliander, Vice President; Jackie Cartier, Secretary; Brenda Pepi, Treasurer; and Alan Macdonald, Publicity Chairman. To these, to the representatives, and to all who participated goes the credit for the success of the program.

Student Council

The most important body in Winchester High School is the Student Council. This group ably handles many of the school's problems, and strives to promote a better understanding between the faculty and the students. The student body is represented by four officers, eighteen class representatives, and four members at large.

This year the Student Council officers have been Steve Dee, President; John Colliander, Vice President; Leslie Sanger, Secretary; and Judy Tofuri, Treasurer. With the constructive advice and help of the advisors, Mr. Knight, Mrs. Hoaglund, and Mrs. Miller, these four people, along with the other members of the council, have worked hard and long on the many important matters that arose during the year. Among the new, major ones were the Christmas project, where eighteen students brought Christmas cheer to patients at the Chelsea Naval Hospital, and the distribution of the "Flyer" as a means of communicating to the student body what was being done in the council.

Curtain and Cue

The large drama group of WHS, Curtain & Cue, started the year off with a bang. With the combined efforts of the performers, stage crew, make-up committee, and our faculty advisors, Mr. Morse and Mr. McLaughlin, "One-Act Play Night" proved to be an evening of entertainment and success. The Senior play repeated their victory of last year with an equally hilarious comedy, "Seventeen-Year-Old Woman". The best director award was also given to the Seniors, Carol Coakley and Mimi Barnes. Along with the plays, the audience was thrilled with amazing talent.

Curtain & Cue plans for the rest of the year include the Junior-Senior Play, Christmas at WHS, and, of course, the Vaudeville. Under the capable leadership of our officers, Sue Bennett, President; Dianne Watson, Vice President; Sandra Simpson, Secretary; Thea Kirk, Treasurer; Natalie Palmer, Senior Representative; and Pam Smith, Executive Board Member; Curtain & Cue will wind up another successful year.

Junior-Senior Play

The laughs came when the curtain rose on the 1962 Junior-Senior Play, "Sabrina Fair" by Samuel Taylor.

Sabrina Fairchild (Pam Smith), the chauffeur's daughter who went to Paris a shy, mousey girl, returns to the Linus Larabee estate five years later, a woman in love with life. Sabrina has returned to find out if she really loves David Larabee (Larry Archibald). Despite efforts of Linus Larabee Jr., arrogant and cocky after turning his father's small business into a financial empire, the anticipated romance fails. We are all surprised when the independent Linus Jr. discovers that he, himself, loves the fair Sabrina.

Maude Larabee (Sue Bennett) is the urbane mother, and wife of the aging Linus Sr. (Jim Reed), whose hobby is attending funerals of people he doesn't know. A peppy old gal, Julia McKinlock (Betsy Woodward), Maude's Wellesley roommate, adds a touch of spice. Also to be commended are William Sandburg, Sue Bryant, Andrea Mattisen, Norman Stafford, Dick Burns, Kent Baerenwold, and Margory Pervis. Many thanks go to Miss Rosenman for directing this fine performance!

One-Act Play Night

After many frantic rehearsals, three frantic directors, their assistants, and their casts presented another successful One-Act Play Night to an audience of over six hundred.

The Junior Class, directed by Marilyn Long and Dorothy Williams, started the evening with "His First Date." Then the Sophomore Class, new to Winchester High School and to acting, presented "Nobody Sleeps," directed by Linnie Butts and her assistant, John Giger. Finally, the Senior Class, a group of "pros" by now, won both the "best play" and the "best director" awards. Carol Coakley and Mimi Barnes directed the cast in "The Seventeen-Year-Old Woman."

All-Star Cast consisted of: Seniors Jim Reid and Sue Bennett; Junior Candee Callaham; and Sophomore Betsey McCreery. Mary Lou O'Donnell was General Chairman of the evening and provided the record-breaking audience with an entertaining talent show. For their special efforts as co-ordinators, many thanks go to Mr. McLaughlin and Mr. Morse.

Philosophy Club

The Philosophy Club, with its beloved Mr. Skerry as advisor, has conducted many fine programs. Such interesting and informative speakers as Dr. Gustav Kaufman, a surgeon; Mr. Hinton, an engineer; Mrs. Zeni, a nurse; and Gisela von-Klocke, a foreign exchange student from Germany, were honored guests.

Those elected officers who made all the essential preparations for these meetings were: President Anne Marie Monahan, Vice President Roben Thompson, and Secretaries Carol Arlanson and Arthur Daniels. These officers were aided by a planning board consisting of four devoted representatives from each class. Seniors who became members of the board were Alice Dyson, Judy Towle, Ginny Scaturro, and Ralph Wilhelm. The Junior class representatives included Diane landoli, Terry Vercollone, Dick Runci, and Roberta Marinelli.

With the careful planning of Mr. Skerry, the officers, and the planning board, along with the excellent attendance of its members, the Philosophy Club has once again maintained its reputation as one of the most active and beneficial clubs at Winchester High School.

Math Club

The Math Club was formed to provide the average student with the opportunity to learn a little something extra while finding out that math can be fun. This year the club again had a large membership and was very successful.

Under the supervision of the club's new faculty advisor, Mr. Book, groups were formed to study special topics, such as non-Euclidean geometry, logic, and maxima-minima problems.

During the year some members participated in a math contest league in which they solved or tried to solve sets of special problems.

Of course, throughout the year, lectures were given on different topics by members of the Math Department.

Science Club

This year's Science Club featured such interesting events as a tour of the mammoth sixty-foot radiotelescope at the Harvard Observatory in Harvard, Massachusetts. One of the astronomers explained the equipment and the nature of the signals reaching us from the stars, galaxies, and gas clouds, millions of light years away.

Speakers included Dr. Erikson, who spoke on the Polaroid process and applications for infra-red light. The Science Fair and the Science Club Dance promise to be of interest not only for club members, but for the entire student body.

Edmund Crotty is President with Bill Eddy, Vice President; Pam Smith, Treasurer; and Ruth Hutchinson, Secretary. The Executive Committee, which helps to plan the year's events, includes Kris Wilhelm, Lloyd Stillman, Scott Erskine, Jan Thomas, Lance Grenzeback, and Fred Cardin. Finally, there is Mrs. Travis, whose guidance is responsible for the success of this year's club.

Devotional Committee

The melodious notes that flow into the home-rooms at eight each morning are provided by the Devotional Committee. These thirty-three Senior students are under the very helpful and much appreciated guidance of Miss Milliken and Mr. McLaughlin.

Every week two of the students read a Bible selection, with a related thought for the day, and lead the student body in the recitation of the Lord's Prayer. Then they broadcast the homeroom announcements, beginning with a brisk "Good morning!" Background music is handled by the WHSR-FM station engineers. The committee members, with the aid of the officers, Mary Lou O'Donnell, Dean Anderson, and Sandra Simpson, prepare their own devotional scripts during the week prior to their recitation.

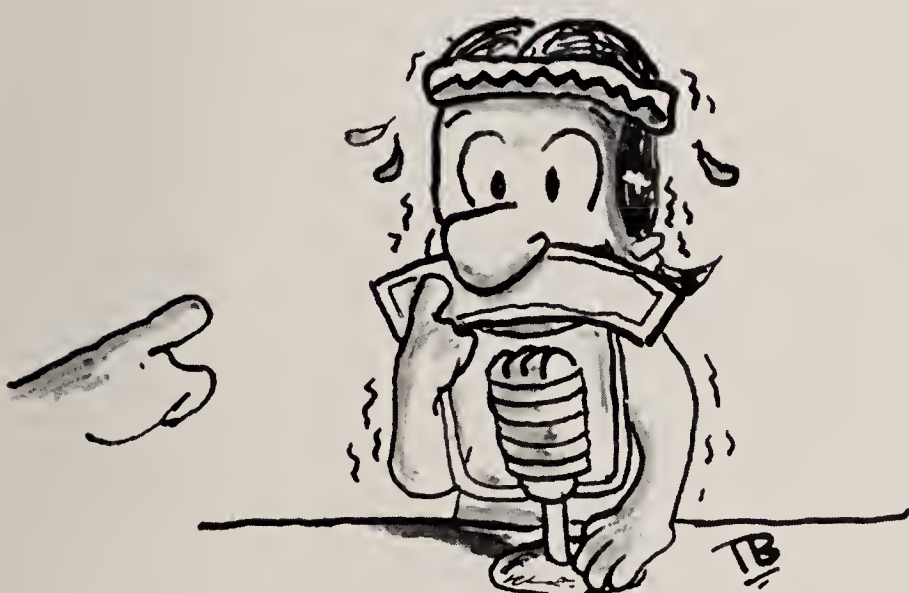

Each year the Devotional Committee aims to give the student an immediate meaning to his school day and a deeper insight into himself and his relations with others.

WHSR-FM

"WHSR-FM, a ten-watt, educational station at 91.9 megacycles on your FM band is beginning broadcasting . . ." and so begins another day of tuneful listening and informative programming on our station with imagination.

Early risers are put into a jovial mood each weekday morning when "Wake Up Winchester" goes on the air from 7 to 8 with "wake-up" melodies. Regular afternoon shows, Monday through Thursday, present a variety of semi-classical, folk, popular, and classical music with the latest news and weather, special reports, interviews, and sports added. In addition, all home football and basketball games, assemblies, and other important events are broadcast.

Under the able direction of Mr. Morse, Mary Lou O'Donnell and Ralph Wilhelm, station managers, kept the station in working order with a minimum of troubles and a maximum of entertaining shows.

Mixed Glee Club

This year's ninety-four-member Mixed Glee Club found it necessary to rehearse in separate Tuesday-Thursday or Wednesday-Friday groups; but when they combined, the results were outstanding.

Under the superb direction of a very patient Mr. Withington, 28 boys and 66 girls harmonized four-part selections ranging from tranquilly beautiful religious hymns to lively and much-enjoyed Broadway musicals. In addition to the satisfaction and enjoyment that comes from learning a song really well, the Sophomore, Junior, and Senior members learned the fundamentals of rhythm and choral blending and became adept at gracefully handling the crimson choir robes.

Grateful appreciation goes to Sue Defoe and Patricia Shinney, who accompanied the Mixed Glee Club not only at rehearsals, but also in their fine performances in Christmas at WHS, the Annual Spring Concert, and the Northeastern Music Festival.

The Girls' Glee Club met again this year under the able direction of Mr. Wendell S. Withington. Every Monday and Wednesday during E block, the melodious voices of thirty talented girls flowed from the Music Room. The material varied from a wide selection of popular tunes to religious music and semi-popular songs. Their hard work was recognized in the fine performance at "Christmas at WHS" and the annual spring concert.

What were you doing Wednesday night from 6:30 to 7:30? Well, if you'd ever been near the High School Music Room, you would have heard what twelve of us did! Under the leadership of Mr. Withington, and with our accompanist, Roberta Marinelli, we practiced without too many interruptions! Our aim—to achieve the best we could; and, with such excellent performances as at One-Act Play Night, Christmas at WHS, Vaudeville, town benefits, and state competitions, we feel we have! Songs ranging from classical to the blues were presented, pleasing all musical tastes. Yes, the Octette has gained a fine reputation through the years. We, the Seniors of this group, only hope that the years to come will bring as much success and enjoyment to its members as the Octette has to us.

Traffic Squad

"Hi ya', Joe. How's it goin'?"

"And then she said . . ."

"Oh! I forgot all about that English test!"

" . . . All right, kid, I'll see you at lunch."

Such is a slight sampling of the parts of conversation that members of the school traffic squad are likely to hear as fellow students file past. As door-holders and traffic directors, the boys in the traffic squad usually do a good job; they are also pretty careful to leave class a little bit early and to arrive at class a little bit late. This year's traffic squad would like to wish next year's squad the best of luck . . . especially at keeping their feet from being stepped on!

Girls' Intramural Council

The main objective of the Girls' Intramural Council is to encourage leadership, service, sportsmanship, and spirit, and to provide activities for the advantage of all. Every girl in the high school is automatically a member of this organization, whether an athlete or a non-athlete, and is eligible for its benefits.

This year, among other activities, the girls will sell donuts at the boys' basketball games and will hold a food sale in the spring, instead of the annual auction. Also, much time will be spent tallying up the points of each girl's earnings throughout the year by her participation in athletics.

The GIC will complete its season once again very successfully with the help of Miss Collins, faculty advisor; Tricia Buros, President; Judy Morison, Vice President; Betty Bixler, Secretary; Carole Lawson, Treasurer; Pat Sexton and Immy Casagrande, Publicity Chairmen; and the class representatives.

Cheerleaders

KNEELING: J. Tofuri, M. Uhlig, C. Callaham. STANDING: D. Price, L. Anderson, L. Sanger, D. Nichols, P. Sexton, C. Hopkins, D. Nichols.

Forming the pep club and perfecting several new cheers were two of the many things that kept the cheerleaders on their toes this year. At first there was some confusion concerning the name similarity, but once nicknames were found, all went well. Captain Moido's wonderful supper and breakfast before the Thanksgiving Day game were some of the memorable events. Everyone enjoyed those reciprocal cheers with the Woburn cheerleaders, along with the moving pictures. The Cheerleaders had a great deal of help from the pep club this year. The signs and the spirit that they gave were greatly appreciated and spared the lungs of the cheerleaders.

Each girl will always remember the long hours of practicing, marching with the band, and the secret huddles before each game.

Tumblettes

KNEELING: Capt. J. Haad, Capt. L. Vallee. STANDING: G. Haggerty, S. Puffer, C. Bertalucci, C. Arlansan, E. Aiken, N. Stafford, S. Wingate, D. Brawn.

Captained by Linda Vollee and Joanne Hood, the versatile tumbling ten enjoyed another successful season entertaining football fans at the half. Much time was spent by the conscientious girls in developing varied routines and original stunts to catch the eyes of interested spectators. One disadvantage, of course was the short skirts that didn't shut out the bone-chilling wind very well; but undying spirit (rah, rah) kept them going. It wasn't much fun lying in the mud or slush either, but these girls were really undaunted by anything. Now only nine years in existence, the Tumblettes have done an extra fine job in adding to school spirit. Not only Sachem fans, but those of opposing teams as well, eagerly await a performance of the lively Tumblettes, our answer to other towns' majorettes.

Field Hockey

Under the capable guidance of Coach Collins and the enthusiastic leadership of co-captains Carole Lawson and Jane Hess, the Sachemettes had a successful field hockey season. Taking into consideration the loss of seven players from last year's team, our girls' present record of four wins, one tie, and three losses is one to be praised.

While the opponents obtained a total of nine goals in the eight games played, our team secured fourteen. Marie Scalesse, the goalie, Debbie Harrison, the highest scorer, and the whole varsity team are to be commended for this exceptionally high scoring record in contrast to the opponents' comparatively low one. The many spectators who loyally supported the girls also contributed largely to the team's tremendous spirit.

The Jay Vees, acquiring four wins, three ties, and one loss, performed extremely well at every game. Since a great many skilled Varsity and Jay Vee players will be returning to play field hockey next year, the Varsity has great potential.

KNEELING: C. Lawson, N. Palmer, J. Morrison, B. Bixler, D. Harrison, M. Long, J. Towle.
STANDING: G. Eugley, M. Goethals, L. White, J. Carr, P. Tofuri, Miss Collins.

Girls' Basketball

With "Nausea's" proven good luck and Miss Collins's expert coaching, the 1962 Sachemettes are assured of another winning season. The Varsity squad is comprised of forwards Captain Betty "Boo-Boo" Bixler, Judy Morrison, Debbi Harrison, and of guards Marilyn Long, Carole Lawson, Nat Palmer, Judy Carr, and Judy Towle.

"Boo-Boo's Beaus" laugh with glee as team after team falls victim to the "noose." At this time, only Lincoln-Sudbury has escaped. The girls are especially looking forward to hanging Milton Academy.

The Junior Varsity squad, composed of Juniors and Sophomores, should also have as successful a season if they show as much fight and determination as they have in trying to duck the showers.

This year's managers are Lee Crocker, Patti Tofuri, Gwen Eugley, and Mary Goethals. These girls act as timers, scorers, welcoming committees, and cheering section.

KNEELING: K. O'Dannell, D. Harrison, J. Marrison, P. Lamarca, B. Bixler. STANDING: J. Tafuri, I. Casagrande, Miss McLucas, M. Scallese, M. Preston, N. Carter.

Girls' Softball

... "It's going, going, gone for the home run!"
 ... At the sight of melting snow, coach Walda will lead the troop of heroines down to the softball diamond for their first practice of the season. They'll soon be at work popping new white softballs into battered leather gloves. With their early start, the Sachemette Softball team will be well prepared for their first opponent, Belmont, on May 4.

Although the team lost six of its starters from last year, the Sachemettes will be capably led by captains Judy Morison and Debbie Harrison and strongly supported by returning letterwomen: Betty Bixler, Karen O'Donnell, Barbara Diapella and Louise Lamarca. Our team will be strengthened even more by the returning Seniors and Juniors including: Martha Preston, Nancy Carter, Marie Scalesse, Judy Tofuri, Imogen Casagrande and other promising Sophomores.

Throughout the season the girls will assuredly meet their toughest opponents with high spirits and enthusiasm.

KNEELING: J. McClennan, P. Buros, C. Lawson. STANDING: D. Nichols, P. Sexton, Miss Collins, J. Hood, L. Sanger.

Girls' Tennis

Spring vacation will bring all the candidates for the girls' tennis team out to Palmer Courts to begin practice for the season. Since several varsity letter winners, including Captain Tricia Buros, are returning, the team has already a solid base. There are also some promising Juniors and Sophomores who will join them, making the team complete. Miss Collins will be coach this year.

In most instances, the varsity team has seven members, three sets of singles and two of doubles. Sometimes, however, everyone on the team may compete. To win the game, a team must win at least three of the five matches.

Last year several of the matches were rained out and canceled because they could not be rescheduled. If the weather this spring is on their side, the girls should have no trouble equalling or surpassing the excellent record of the past years.

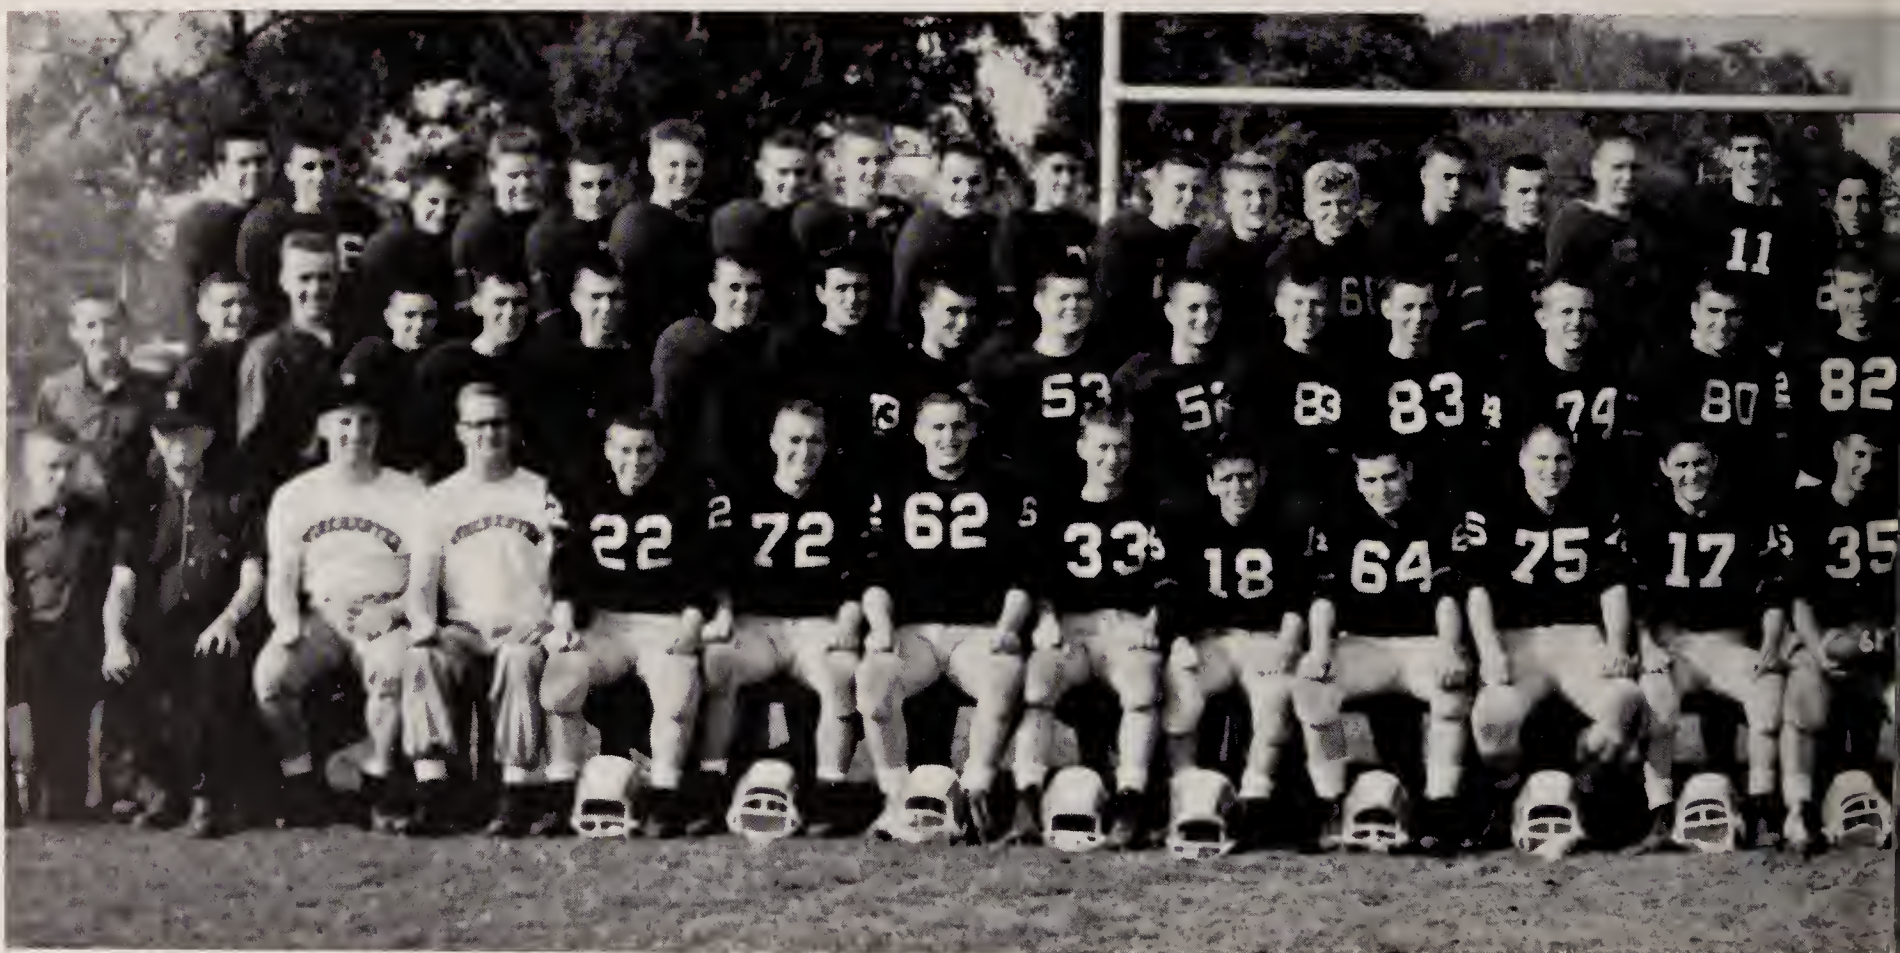

Football

Although the football team's record this year was a somewhat unimpressive 4-4-1, the team was better than its record seems to indicate. In many of the close decisions Winchester had the bad luck to come out on the short end of things.

Winchester started out the season with a win over Concord, 28-6, but was upset the next week by a fired-up Stoneham club, 8-22. The following Saturday saw the Sachems in a non-league game against Cambridge Latin, 30-6. Then came the Lexington game, in which the Sachems fulfilled their potential with a win of 34 to 20. After a close loss to Melrose, 22-24, and a tie with Reading, Winchester came back with a victory over Belmont 30-22. In the last two games of the season, Winchester lost first to Wakefield and then to Woburn.

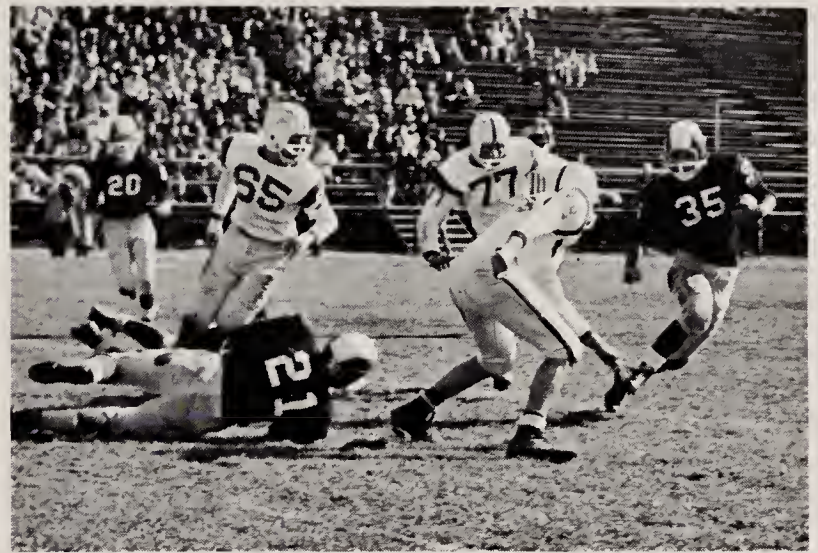

Tom Mooney and Mike Bellino were chosen as the outstanding Winchester lineman and back of the Thanksgiving Day contest.

Even though the team did not have an outstanding season, every member gained valuable experience and learned lessons in skill and sportsmanship.

Cross Country

Under the strong leadership of an enthusiastic coach, Mr. Book, the Sachem Cross Country Team was back out on the roads, ducking the falling autumn leaves, eager to break all existing records. This spirited team, led by Jack Scherban and Dean Anderson, was ably backed up by Frank Johnson, Steve Dee, Dick Guiliani, Phil Gallagher, George Goethals, Dave Bird, and Neal Kirkpatrick.

Running against greatly-improved competition, the Harriers compiled an impressive 5-2 record with wins over Reading, Revere, Woburn, Haverhill, and Wakefield; the only losses resulting from competition with 2 inspired teams from Salem and Waltham. Although the Harriers ran excellent races in the League and State Meets, they lost both to superior competition.

With Kevin Kiley as honorary captain, the JV's also had a winning season, duplicating last year's record by going undefeated in all their dual meets.

There is no doubt that the success of the Cross Country team this year may be attributed in large part to the untiring efforts and conscientious guidance of Mr. Book.

Boys' Basketball

The team this year didn't have quite as good a season as was expected, although their record was fair. After losing the first three league games to Lexington, Concord, and Wakefield, the quintet became somewhat depressed. Yet they bounced back and beat Melrose, Belmont, and Reading. Then Lexington again proved too tough for them as the Minutemen won by three points in one of the most exciting games of the year. After beating Concord at home, and dropping a close one to Wakefield, the team received the inevitable report cards; the following game at Melrose was played by a slightly smaller group. Nevertheless, John Peckham came through with a nineteen point output as the Sachems romped over the Red Raiders.

Spectators at the games this year saw Mike Bellino, Charlie Tofuri, and John Peckham splitting the guard positions, while Richie Bond worked at center and John Lane and Bob Donlon played forward.

All in all, the WHS quintet didn't have too bad a season. As we leave, we wish good luck to Captain Jim Devaney and next year's team.

ROW 1: J. Peckham, R. Giger, G. Murphy, B. McCormock, R. Scherbon, M. Penta, B. O'Collohon, W. Grant, R. Cowles, R. Murroy. ROW 2: Asst. Coach J. McElholm,

Hockey

Even though this year's team was comprised mostly of Sophomores, the Sachems had a very good season. Led by Captain Paul Ryan, the team started off very well by beating Lexington in a come from behind effort, 5-2. Captain Paul Ryan combined with Sophomores Barry Johnson and Ed Cutting to form a very good first line. On defense were Tommy Johns, a Junior, and another Sophomore, Vic Lawson. Sophomore Jerry Hills rounded out the starting six in the goal.

With the team so inexperienced this year, Coach Finigan had an unusually hard time. However, as usual, he came up with the right combinations, and Winchester's famous position hockey began to pay off. Even a 10 to 1 drubbing at the hands of Melrose did not destroy the team's spirit. The boys regrouped their forces and came back to make it a successful season.

With the team as young as it is, the Sachems should be contenders for league honors next year, and within two years they may just be able to bring back the State title to Winchester.

Gym Team

The gymnastic team is very proud to be under the able direction of Coach Battino, who has been elected President of the Massachusetts High School Gymnastic Coaches Association for this year.

This year's schedule will consist of eleven dual meets against strong opponents. The team has started off the season by giving two exhibitions to the junior high schools. Led by co-captains Mike Lonigro and Bob Peterson, the boys look as if they have a great deal of potential for a fine year.

Due to the strong support of students and parents, gymnastics has progressed rapidly in the past few years. Since the meets have been so well attended, this year they will be held at night.

Winchester has the honor of conducting the State Championship for the first time. The Individual Championship at Andover will climax the season.

ROW 1: G. Wollwork, J. Peckhom, T. Mooney, M. Bellino, B. Fitzgerald, R. Casalnuovo, G. Nowell, J. Moron, J. Lane, R. Lindsey. ROW 2: P. MacCutcheon, T. Johns, R.

Cervizzi, M. O'Dair, J. Curron, N. Doherty, J. Colliander, R. Keene, R. Rowe, R. Smith, M. Bennett, K. Wolcott.

Baseball

Whether there is snow on the ground or not, in the early part of March all baseball candidates will report to try-outs under our new coach, Mr. Robert Kessler. Things may be different this year, since Coach Kessler has had some professional experience himself. Try-outs will be held just as if they were for the major leagues. And, of course, Coach Kessler will stress fundamentals because he knows their importance.

This year the team is captained by Tom Mooney, who along with Mike Bellino, did some good hitting last year. Other returning lettermen are John Colliander, John Peckham, and Dick Casalnuovo. Do not be afraid if you see flashes on the diamond, because it will only be "Cassy's cannon" firing from third to first. As in years past, Winchester will display its own type of ball coupled with the good sportsmanship which is so characteristic of Winchester High.

Track

With five returning lettermen and a talented corps of Jay Vees, the track team is determined to improve last year's record of 4 wins, 3 losses, and 1 tie. Coached by Mr. Battino and captained by Joe Dattilo, the speedsters will take on eight teams during the season. In addition, they will also attempt to better last year's performances in the Middlesex League and State meets.

To achieve these ambitions, the team will have to make full use of its returning talent. Joe Dattilo, the holder of the school discus record, will strengthen the team in his event. Others who will greatly assist the team will be: Frank Curtis, a strong competitor in both high and low hurdles; Jack Scherban, an accomplished distance runner; Bill Graham, a potential record-breaker in the high jump; and Bob Emmons, a very promising sprinter.

This year's team has the versatility and depth necessary to be a top contender in all its meets. Coupled with student support, these qualities should provide a rewarding season.

K. Carlson, R. Giger, M. MacKay, D. Moncy, R. McNeil, P. Ryan. ABSENT: Dr. Ulin.

Boys' Tennis

The Boys' Tennis Team of 1962 promises to have as good a team if not better than the team of 1961. Mr. McGhee has retired as coach and his duties have been taken over by Dr. Ulin. Returning veterans are Captain Jim Reid, Paul Ryan, Dave Moncy, and Roger McNeil. There are many very promising Sophomores, particularly Gerry Hills, who had a high ranking this past year among New England boys fifteen and under. The team will play such traditional rivals as Wakefield, Lexington, Concord, Belmont, and Melrose, as well as the private schools of Middlesex, Groton, and Andover. The State Tournament will close out the year.

ROW 1: Mr. Aversa, A. Banester, J. Stabile, W. Eddy, K. Carlson. ROW 2: G. Laban, G. Neumann, R. Kiley, A. McLean.

Golf Team

Come spring, this year's golf team will once again be found at the Winchester Country Club. In his second year as coach, Mr. Aversa will be expecting the strongest golf team in a long time. A dark horse candidate in the Middlesex League, the team is assured of bettering last year's record. The reason for such optimism lies in the return of five lettermen, including four of last year's six starters, and some promising newcomers. The five lettermen are Frank Johnson, Bob Kiley, George Neumann, Arthur McLean and Ken Carlson. Most promising of the newcomers is Winchester Junior Champion, Tom Johns, who is expected to battle last year's top player, Frank Johnson, for the number one spot on the team. As usual, the team will be instructed by Tex McReynolds, the pro at the Winchester Country Club.

ROW 1: W. Branley, D. Mullen, T. Mooney, T. Baird, J. Dattilo, J. Chane, F. Johnson, M. Bennett, T. Inman. ROW 2: R. Donlon, A. McLean, C. Hoyt, D. Anderson, D. Bird, N. Kirkpatrick, K. Carlson. ROW 3: T. Johns, D. Hoffman, S. Erskine, J. Peckham, G. Neumann, M. Lonigro, F. Curtis. ROW 4: G. Muraco, R. Casalnuovo, N.

Varsity Club

The Winchester High School Varsity Club is made up of all the male athletes who have won a varsity letter in any sport. This year the Athletic Association and the Varsity Club have combined under the able direction of Coach Henry Knowlton.

The main function of the club is to promote good sportsmanship and fair play, not only on the playing field, but also in all other everyday activities, in and out of school. The club also runs the Fall Sports Dance, the Varsity Club Sports Night, and the pep rallies held throughout the year. The funds raised at these events are used to support the expenses of the club and to pay for the movies taken at football games.

This year the club's officers are Bob Benincasa, President; Dick Rowe, Vice President; Bobby Flaherty, Secretary; and Mike Bellino, Treasurer.
